One of the following Added Authorizations is included within the degree: Adapted Physical Education (APE), Early Childhood Special Education (ECSE), Emotional Disturbance (ED), Orthopedic Impairment (OI), Other Health Impaired (OHI), and/or Traumatic Brain Injury (TBI). A total of 36 semester units are required for the degree. The curriculum provides a deeper specialization in contemporary issues in the field of special education.

Program Learning Outcomes

The program learning outcomes for the Master of Science in Special Education are built on and related to the School of Education outcomes that are symbolized in three themes: equip, transform, and empower. The M.S. in the Special Education program then applies these major themes to this program.

Candidates who complete the Master of Science in Special Education program will be able to:

Equip

- Promote the success of all students by understanding, responding to, and influencing the larger political, social, economic, legal, and cultural context.

Transform

- Promote the success of all students by modeling a personal code of ethics and developing professional leadership capacity.

Empower

- Promote the success of all students by collaborating with families and community members, responding to diverse community interests and needs, and mobilizing community resources.

Program Eligibility to the Master of Science in Special Education

- Proof of a valid California initial credential
- A cumulative undergraduate grade point average of 3.000 is required to be admitted in the MS in Special Education to the degree or the stand-alone credential. Applicants with a cumulative grade point average less than 3.000 may apply for "Admission under Exception" which is reviewed by the program director and dean;
- Two or more letters of recommendation from appropriate persons who have knowledge of the applicant's character and ability to work with children or youth (references from friends or relatives are not appropriate);
- A writing sample that indicates graduate-level ability; and
- An interview with the appropriate program director or Admissions chair.

Applicants who do not meet the above standards but can demonstrate that they have an exceptionally rich experiential background and/or have demonstrated dramatic change in academic performance may petition the School of Education to review their status.
