

CLINICAL COUNSELING, M.A.

The Master of Arts in Clinical Counseling (MACC) program can be completed in two years of continuous enrollment. Classes are designed as collaborative learning experiences where students and instructors are engaged in asynchronous dialog throughout the week. Students learn in community as they participate in a cohort experience that not only provides for a great learning environment, but also develops a network of friends who share common goals.

Students in the MACC program will decide, by the end of their first year, whether to pursue clinical hours to become either a Licensed Professional Clinical Counselor (LPCC) or a Licensed Marriage and Family Therapist (LMFT). During the second year of the program, students enroll in supervised practicum as clinical counseling trainees. Our practicum students are required to serve the community of San Diego by providing no/low-cost counseling at our on-site training clinic in Mission Valley before being placed in off-site practicum locations.

Upon graduation the student applies to the Board of Behavioral Sciences to become a registered intern and then continues to accrue the necessary hours of clinical experience in order to sit for the state licensing examination to become either an LPCC or an LMFT.

Program Learning Outcomes

The core curriculum of the Master of Arts in Clinical Counseling program is to develop students with these key outcomes:

1. Students will articulate a clear, accurate understanding of their professional identity as either an LMFT or LPCC, or both.
2. Students will demonstrate knowledge of the fundamental domains in their selected area of specialization, in professional clinical counseling (i.e., foundations; counseling prevention, and intervention, diversity & advocacy; assessment; research & evaluation; and diagnosis) or marriage and family therapy (i.e., human development, family dynamics, systemic thinking, interactional theories, traditional and contemporary marriage and family theories, research and cultural context).
3. Students will demonstrate ability to apply relevant research and evaluation models in practice of clinical counseling.
4. Students will demonstrate skills and practices of clinical counseling in the delivery of mental health services (e.g., assessment, diagnosis, treatment, termination, documentation, & ethical practice).
5. Students will deliver mental health services with multicultural competence and sensitivity.
6. Students will demonstrate ability to integrate faith with clinical counseling practice in clinically appropriate, culturally sensitive, and ethical manner.

Clinical Training

The MACC program includes the application of theory in direct clinical experience. While enrolled in supervised practicum courses, students have the opportunity to provide direct clinical service to clients in community agencies approved by the school. Before placement at an external agency, students will provide psychotherapy to one or more clients at the on-site training clinic, the Center for Enriching Relationships. Upon successful completion of this initial experience and approval by the training staff, students will secure a practicum site in the community and complete a 10-12 month traineeship. Although particular site requirements vary, all students will complete 700 total hours of supervised training (300 of which is face-to-face, direct service). Student suitability to provide mental health services will be evaluated by the training staff in an on-going manner, and any evidence of concerns (i.e. ethical violations, patterns of personal characteristics and/or behavior that poses risk to the welfare of the client) may lead to remediation or potential dismissal from the program.

Personal Therapy Requirement

Over the course of the program, MACC students are required to receive 20 hours of personal psychotherapy from a licensed clinician. Students may complete this requirement in an individual or group setting. Two hours of group therapy or one hour of individual therapy counts as one hour of credit toward the requirement. At least ten of the twenty hours must be individual or group therapy and up to ten hours can be marital or family therapy. This requirement must be completed prior to graduation.

Comprehensive Examination

As a final assessment of competency, each student must pass the Comprehensive Examination, a computerized mock license exam that reflects program coursework and obtained clinical knowledge. This examination is administered during PSY 6097. Passing the Comprehensive Examination is required for graduation.

Program Prerequisites

Prior to beginning this program, the following course requirements must be completed:

- General Psychology
- Abnormal Psychology
- Human Development

An official transcript from a regionally accredited institution is the required documentation.

Transfer Options

Transfer credit is defined as graduate credit earned at another regionally accredited institution. Students may request transfer courses to be considered for application to a degree program. Any transfer courses to be considered for application to a degree program must be recommended by the school dean/department chair with final approval residing with the Vice Provost for Academic Administration. No more than one sixth of the program units may be transferred to the degree, and all coursework must have been completed within the last seven years at a regionally accredited institution and may not have been previously used for completion of a graduate degree program.
