- Hammocks and slacklines may not be left unattended; if left behind, the hammock may be removed by PLNU staff.

Hazing - Hazing is not allowed within any of the University's clubs or groups, whether or not they are officially recognized by the University. The California Law (CA Penal Code Section 245.6 (https://leginfo.ca.gov/faces/codes_displaySection.xhtml?lawCode=PEN§ionNum=245.6)) was established in memory of Matthew William Carrington who died on February 20, 2005 as a result of hazing. Prosecution under Matt's Law does not prohibit prosecution under any other provision of law.

Hazing is any action taken or situation created intentionally:

- that causes social ostracism, embarrassment, harassment or ridicule
- risks psychological and/or physical harm
- to members of a group or team
- whether new or not
- regardless of the person's willingness to participate

Hazing that does not result in serious bodily injury is a misdemeanor, punishable by a fine of not less than $100 nor more than $5,000; imprisonment in the county jail for not more than one year; or both.

Any person who personally engages in hazing that results in death or serious bodily injury is guilty of either a misdemeanor or a felony, and shall be punished by imprisonment in county jail not exceeding one year or by imprisonment in the state prison.

The person against whom the hazing is directed may commence a civil action for injury or damages. The action may be brought against any participants in the hazing or any organization to which the student is seeking membership whose agents, directors, trustees, managers, or officers authorized, requested, commanded, participated in, or ratified the hazing.

Point Loma Nazarene University supports only those activities that are constructive, educational and inspirational, and that contribute to the intellectual and personal development of the students. The University unequivocally opposes any situation intended to produce mental or physical discomfort, embarrassment, harassment, or ridicule. The University interprets hazing as any act, whether physical, mental, emotional or psychological, that subjects another person, voluntarily or involuntarily, to anything that may abuse, mistreat, degrade, humiliate, harass, or intimidate an individual, or which may in any fashion compromise an individual's inherent dignity as a person. In addition, any requirements by a member or pledge which compels another member or pledge to participate in any activity that is against University policy, state or federal law, will be defined as hazing. It is the right of every student on this campus to be free from the humiliation and danger of hazing. Hazing by any individual or organization shall be viewed as incongruent with the mission and values of the University. Each organization is responsible for designing programs that recognize the moral, spiritual, and intellectual qualities of human rights. Clubs and organizations must review a detailed definition of hazing in the Office of Community Life. Compliance with this description is required.

Health and Campus Environment

When a student presents with behaviors of a dysregulated, disordered, or disruptive nature that may create a health or learning risk to any students, the University may require the student be removed from the campus until an assessment of the student has been completed, a plan of support/treatment is developed by University officials, resources for the support/treatment have been reviewed, and a consistent accountability plan has been established. All conditions of the plan must be met by the student in order to remain enrolled at the University.

Human Sexuality

PLNU affirms the view of the Church of the Nazarene that human sexuality is one expression of holiness and beauty that God the Creator intended. Because all human beings are created in the image of God, they are of inestimable value and worth. As a result, we believe that human sexuality is meant to include more than the sensual experience, and is a gift of God designed to reflect the whole of our physical and relational createdness. It is God's intention that in the sacramental union of marriage a man and woman may experience the joy and pleasure of sexual intimacy and from this act of intimate love new life may enter the world and into a covenantal community of care.

- Students are expected to abstain from sexual intimacy outside of heterosexual marriage.
- PLNU affirms that all human life, including life developing in the womb, is created by God in His image and is, therefore, to be nurtured, supported, and protected. A student, whether single or married, who becomes pregnant will receive grace-filled care and support within the PLNU community.
- PLNU seeks to be a community where lesbian, gay, bisexual, transgender and intersex persons are treated with dignity, grace, and holy love in the Spirit of Christ. We recognize the complexity of current issues related to sexual orientation and gender identity. The university desires to faithfully care for all students while engaging these conversations with respect, care, humility, courage, and discernment.
- A student (or potential student) who needs assistance with matters related to gender identity (such as gender dysphoria, sexually ambiguous birth, legally altered birth documentation) is invited to discuss these concerns with the Associate Dean of Student Success and Wellness, who will provide support, care, and assistance in accessing university resources.

- Residential Life housing assignments, use of single gender restrooms, and locker rooms are consistent with one's assigned sex at birth. A student (or potential student) who needs assistance with matters related to gender identity (such as gender dysphoria, sexually ambiguous birth, legally altered birth documentation) is invited to discuss these concerns with the Associate Dean of Student Success and Wellness, who will provide support, care, and assistance in accessing university resources.
- Intercollegiate athletic team assignments are consistent with one's assigned sex at birth.
- Developing a holistic Christian sexual ethic during the years of young adulthood is both challenging and rewarding. PLNU is a vital Christian community of Wesleyan heritage committed to helping our students develop and live out a holistic Christian sexual ethic while part of this community.

Intimidation as defined as implied threats or acts that cause an unreasonable fear of harm in another, is prohibited.

Littering - Disposing of refuse of any kind on University property except in the appropriate receptacles provided, is prohibited.

Meal Plan Usage - All residential students are required to have a University meal plan which may be utilized solely for personal use - with the exception of a guest meal pass.

Misrepresentation/Forgery/Falsification of Records - Providing false identification or information to any University officials with an intent to deceive. This also includes the unauthorized use of any Point Loma Nazarene University record or document (such as ID card, meal plan, parking permit, chapel attendance) or instrument of identification. Falsification of any University records or documents is also prohibited.

Obscene Language, Literature, and Music - Vulgar, foul, obscene, or profane language is not to be tolerated on campus at any time. Pornographic materials or media (i.e. music, images, video), obscene literature and pictures are also not to be tolerated.

Personal Appearance - The PLNU community affirms that the appearance of students should be consistent with an environment of vital Christianity. Simplicity and modesty are two values especially relevant to our campus situation. Certainly, for any dress policy to be effective, common sense and personal discretion by the members of the community are essential.

The following guidelines are helpful:

- Bodily cleanliness and neatness of dress are essential on the part of everyone.
- Shoes or footwear must be worn in any building, including the visitation lounges of residence halls.
- Clothing should be appropriate to the occasion and in good taste, reflecting the atmosphere of vital Christianity, which is one of the basic principles of Point Loma Nazarene University. Personal appearance should not disrupt the mood or atmosphere of the activity being attended. Clothing with unwholesome advertising should be avoided.
- The University employee who is designated as the official in charge of a specific building or facility may set stricter guidelines for appropriate clothing. This includes faculty in the classrooms, residence directors in the residence halls (especially during Open House hours), the Athletic Director in all athletic facilities, and the Chaplain for Chapel.

Proof of Student Status - PLNU requires that all students be able to show proof of current student status (Student ID) upon request by a University official; specifically, University staff and faculty, Public Safety personnel, resident assistants and chapel scanners. The ID remains the property of the University.

Sales/Advertising on Campus - No sales, solicitation, selling "parties" or advertising is permitted on campus without permission of the Student Life and Formation Office.

Setting a Fire/Arson - Lighting a fire on University property without authorization is prohibited. Starting such a fire with the intent of destroying property is arson.

Sexual Discrimination including Sexual Harassment, Sexual Violence, Sexual Exploitation, Dating Violence, Domestic Violence, and Stalking

Sexual discrimination which includes sexual harassment, sexual violence, sexual exploitation, dating violence, domestic violence, and stalking are violations of University policy and in some cases, serious violations of law. In addition, they violate the sanctity of the human body and spirit and will not be tolerated within the Point Loma Nazarene University (PLNU) community. The University will take reasonable steps to respond to each incident of sexual discrimination involving individuals subject to the University's policies that occur in connection with any educational activity or other program of the University, as well as incidents that occurred outside of those educational programs or activities, whether they occurred on or off campus, if based on the allegations, there is any reason to believe that the incident could contribute to a hostile educational environment or otherwise interfere with a student's access to education. This includes both on and off campus properties and outside university educational programs and activities.

Incapacitation is determined through consideration of all relevant indicators of an individual's state and is not synonymous with intoxication, impairment, blackout, and/or being drunk. This policy also covers a person whose incapacity results from a temporary or permanent physical or mental health condition, involuntary physical restraint, and/or the consumption of incapacitating drugs.

Student Organizations - The University has a legitimate interest in being assured that all University organizations identify their goals and objectives. All such goals and objectives must be compatible with the mission statement and policies of the University and consistent with the tenets of the Church of the Nazarene, as expressed in the Manual (<https://2017.manual.nazarene.org/>) - Church of the Nazarene. Each organization, whether local or of outside affiliation, must obtain official recognition by whatever method is currently in operation at the University. Contact the Associated Student Body Director for Student Relations via email: asbstudentrelations@pointloma.edu.

Student Publications - Student publications at Point Loma Nazarene University are under direction of the Media Board. Such publications are a part of the total campus life, and in the finest tradition of journalism, they must present an objective point of view, accuracy in facts, opposing views or a variety of views on controversial issues. All campus publications are subject to approval of the President of the University as a condition of authority to operate.

Student Social Media Policy - Social media has evolved as a primary source of communication that creates opportunities for us to stay informed, explore new ideas, inspire faith, express ourselves personally, and engage in discussion with others around the world. At Point Loma Nazarene University, we believe in open communication and encourage students to actively use social media to:

- Respectfully communicated with each other.
- Collaborate with alumni and industry experts.
- Inspire positive civic engagement and collective action.
- Produce and share creative content that respects others.
- Manage their personal digital identity.

For the purposes of this policy, "social media" encompasses all forms of communicating or posting information or content of any sort on the Internet, such as communication posts, or other activity on your own or someone else's social media profile (including, but not limited to Instagram, Snapchat, TikTok, YouTube, Facebook, Twitter, LinkedIn, etc.), an online blog, any personal website, an online bulletin board or a chat room or any other electronic medium.

Student Responsibility in the Social Space

It is important to remember that social media is constantly changing and providing innovative ways of communicating. New opportunities for individual expression come with inherent risks, responsibilities, and liabilities. We expect students, as PLNU community members, to use responsible, ethical behavior on social media and be cognizant of our rapidly changing world.

Because of the public nature of social media, messages and content can be easily viewed and shared with a wider audience beyond current fans and followers. Students should be aware of the potential for their social media messages and content to be interpreted by this new audience in a way that was not originally intended. Students are strongly encouraged to consider the ramifications and consequences of their messages and content before posting. As social media becomes increasingly entrenched in our everyday lives, the issues around what we can and cannot say on social media are subject to conversation among us. At PLNU, we are committed to having this ongoing conversation.

The University may review content shared by students on social media to identify material that is unlawful or otherwise has the potential to disrupt student learning or other campus operations, as defined in this Policy under "Prohibited Conduct".

Prohibited Conduct

In alignment with Point Loma Nazarene University's Student Handbook, this Policy recognizes:

- The right of each student to freely express themselves as afforded to them by the First Amendment.
- Our individual and collective responsibility to contribute to an online community spirit of civility and decency.
- The opportunity for learning and growth for all PLNU community members.

Generally, personal, non-university-related social media profiles and accounts of students are not governed by this Policy, unless such use falls within one of the categories of Prohibited Conduct defined below.

PLNU may take corrective action when it receives notice of social media conduct or content by a student (including an admitted student and/or applicant for admission) which violates:

1. Any University policy.
2. "Established and published standards for professionalism" (as defined below); and or state/federal law (where there is sufficient connection to and/or justified concern related to the University).

Prohibited conduct includes:

1. The use of social media involving the use of PLNU technology resources in a manner inconsistent with the policies and procedures applicable to such use, including a PLNU email account, PLNU electronic media (including official University, departmental and student organization social media pages and accounts), and official PLNU websites.
2. The use of social media involving a true threat, which occurs where the speaker communicates a serious expression of an intent to commit an act of unlawful violence to a particular individual or group of individuals, such as threatening to assault an individual or group, or other conduct that substantially disrupts another's work performance or the University's ability to execute its mission in violation of the Student Handbook or other University Policy.
3. The use of social media involving statements directed to inciting or producing imminent violations of law under circumstances such that the statements are likely to actually and imminently incite or produce violations of law or are in violation of the Personal Conduct Policy or other University policies.
4. The use of social media involving the publication or posting of materials, including comments or conduct constituting discrimination, harassment, retaliation or other conduct prohibited by the University's Policy Prohibiting Discrimination, Harassment, and Sexual Harassment (<https://www.pointloma.edu/title-ix/>) or state/federal law.
5. The use of social media to intentionally share false information about another person in a manner that could damage their reputation, result in financial loss or cause mental suffering (otherwise known as defamation)
6. The use of social media to intentionally inflict severe emotional distress on another individual as defined by state law; or the use of social media to violate an individual's privacy as defined by state and/or federal law.
7. The use of social media to cause a material and unreasonable interference with the education, research, public service, and outreach missions of the University. In determining whether conduct meets this standard, the University will consider evidence that the conduct is (a) unconnected to any legitimate educational purpose and (b) made with the purpose and effect of causing a material disruption of an individual's participation in the University's educational program and activities.
8. The use of social media in a way that violates the PLNU Student Personal Conduct Policy or any established and published standards of professionalism for a student defined as: any department, program, course, instructor, classroom or club/organization rules, standards or expectations addressing ethical and professional conduct standards of a student's prospective/current profession and/or affiliation, as set forth on the University's website, in a course syllabus, in student/club/organization handbooks/expectations, or in other materials distributed or communicated to students by the University (which rules, standards or expectations may be more restrictive than the standard University student policies).

Reporting and Review Process

Any faculty, staff or student (including applicants for admission) who would like to request a review of an alleged behavioral concern may file a report using this link (https://cm.maxient.com/reportingform.php?PointLoma&layout_id=0) or by following the instructions outlined in the PLNU Traditional Undergraduate Student Handbook under "Reporting Incidents (<https://pointloma-public.courseleaf.com/prior-catalogs/2023-2024/handbooks/tug-handbook/reporting-incidents/>)".

A PLNU team member may initiate a review of the alleged behavior to gather evidence and information. Potential violations of this Policy will be reviewed through existing processes such as the University's Policy Prohibiting Discrimination, Harassment, and Sexual Harassment (<https://www.pointloma.edu/title-ix/>) and the Student Code of Conduct. Complete details on the review process as well as process for appeals can be found in the Student Handbook under section "Conduct Processes".

Social Media Resources Available to Students

Students who have a concern regarding another student's conduct or content on social media have access to the following resources:

- Report it to the social media platform. Each social media platform has its own guidelines and policies that define user violations, including harassment, bullying, infringement of others' privacy, and more. Students can report an offending account or content to the platform directly so that the platform can review and determine if the account should be suspended or the content be removed.
- Unfollow, block or delete. Students can also unfollow an offending account, block offending content or delete offending comments that appear on their own profiles and accounts.
- Report it to the University. If a student's social media conduct is unlawful or otherwise has the potential to disrupt student learning or other campus operations, as defined by this Policy under Prohibited Conduct, students can file a report using this link (https://cm.maxient.com/reportingform.php?PointLoma&layout_id=0) or by following the instructions outlined in the PLNU Student Handbook under "Reporting Incidents".
- Report it to Public Safety. If a student uses social media to threaten any crime against another person, students are encouraged to contact the PLNU Department of Public Safety (<https://www.pointloma.edu/offices/public-safety/>).

Student Substance Use/Possession Policy - One of the major impediments to student success in higher education is alcohol. (See Harvard study). Students who drink alcohol have been found to have lower grades, lower rates of retention to the institution, and are less likely to graduate than students who do not drink. These current studies emphasize the wisdom of our founders in holding a position of abstinence for the PLNU community. The resulting policy places our students in an advantageous position.

- The University requires that students abstain from the use or possession of marijuana
- The University requires that students abstain from the use or possession of other illegal drugs or THC products in any form
- The University requires that students abstain from the use or possession of alcoholic beverages

- The University requires that students abstain from the use or possession of smoking products, vaping products, and tobacco products
- The University requires that students refrain from sharing or selling any personal, prescribed medications
